KATY TO SPEND FIFTEEN MILLION

INVESTIGATING SALE OF MORE THAN SCORE STOLEN AUTOMOBILES

MADILL, OKLA. Dec. 13—State investigators here continued today to gather evidence regarding the sale in Marshall county of more than a score of alleged stolen automobiles, one of which they declare was found in possession of Sheriff John Glenn and another held by the son of Madill's mayor.

Meanwhile Sheriff Glenn, County Judge Isaac Lewis and other officials and citizens of the county were protesting the quartering here of a national guard detachment and awaiting a response to a telegram sent the governor last night asking that the detachment be withdrawn immediately. The troopers, two officers and 10 men, were ordered here upon request of the state investigators who reported to the adjutant general that threats had been made against their lives.

A showdown in the case is scheduled for Monday when persons in possession of the alleged stolen cars have been ordered to appear in court and explain how they obtained them. They also are ordered to bring the cars along so as to determine whether distinguishing numbers have been altered or defaced.

H. P. Lyons of Madill admitted according to Blair Compton of the state highway department that he sold the cars in question but refuses to state how he obtained them.

Mrs. Ethel Hester was called by the defense and she stated that she had received letters from the defendant but that all of them had been written by Vernon Darby's sister, Mrs. James. She also stated that there had never been any crossed letters between her and the defendant and that [illegible] had had a falling out as she stated. [illegible]

GOMPERS ADMITS COUNSEL EMPLOYED TO ASSIST KELLER

DENIES ADVANCE KNOWLEDGE OF IMPEACHMENT PROGRAM

TELLS OF DISCUSSING BURNS APPOINTMENT

Testifies to Exhibiting Copy Of Report In Connection With Oregon Land Case

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—Samuel Gompers president of the American Federation of Labor, frankly told the house judiciary committee today that the executive committee of the federation had authorized the employment of counsel to assist Representative Keller republican Minnesota in prosecuting impeachment proceedings against Attorney General Daugherty.

Mr. Gompers' statement was made in the course of cross examination by Paul Howland of Cleveland personal counsel for Mr. Daugherty. He emphatically denied that he had first suggested the impeachment proceedings declaring that he had not known of the introduction of the Keller resolution in the house until he read about it in the newspaper.

Mr. Gompers called as a witness for the prosecution told of his visit to Mr. Daugherty in July 1921 at the latters invitation at which the appointment of W. J. Burns as chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice was discussed.

The witness said he had shown Mr. Daugherty a copy of the report made in 1912 by Attorney General Wickersham to President Taft on Burns alleged activities in the drawing of a jury in the Oregon land fraud cases in 1905 and that Mr. Daugherty had compared it with one brought to him by a departmental clerk.

"I told Mr. Daugherty," Mr. Gompers testified, "that it would be a public scandal and bring discredit to the department and the government of the United States if any such man was appointed to an important position as was proposed for Burns and that as a man and a citizen I protested against it."

Wickersham Testifies

George W. Wickersham attorney general under President Taft, who followed Mr. Gompers, denied that politics had entered into the parding of Willard S. Jones convict ed in the Oregon land fraud cases. Some members of the committee had suggested that the pardon was granted six or seven years after conviction in the power of a Taft Roosevelt political fight.

The former attorney general said he rejected any suggestion that President Taft was moved by political considerations.

As to his own recommendation that Jones be pardoned, the witness said it was based solely on the official reports in the case alleging improper activities by Mr. Burns in connection with the drawing of the trial jury.

TO INSIST ON "RIGHTS" BEFORE THE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—Notice was served on the house judiciary committee today by Jackson H. Ralston counsel for Representative Keller republican Minnesota in the impeachment proceedings against Attorney General Daugherty that he would insist on his rights before the committee even if he had to carry his fight to the house of representatives.

Mr. Ralston's announcement came after it had been decided to keep out of the record certain newspaper articles relating to W. J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice. Committee members had not received copies in advance to examine them.

The incident was closed and the hearing proceeded with a suggestion by Representative Mapes, Republican, Michigan, that the committee go along with its work.

TURKEY REFUSES TO ASSIGN TERRITORY TO THE ARMENIANS

By Associated Press

LAUSANNE, Dec. 13.—Turkey refused at today's session of the near east conference to assign any special part of Turkey as a national home for the Armenians. Ismet Pasha, chief Turkish delegate, said this would mean a new attempt to dismember Turkey.

Ismet Pasha was irreconcilable on other points concerning the treatment of minorities in Turkey. Besides declaring Turkey would not set aside an inch of Turkish soil for an Armenian national home he said she would not accept the principle of religious freedom as an international guarantee. Constantinople is where Lord Curzon warned Ismet that there would be no peace in the world for Turkey if the conference broke down on the question of the treatment of minorities.

Are you lame every morning? Do you drag through the day with a steady nagging backache—sometimes find you "all played out?" Probably your kidneys are to blame. Hard work, lack of rest and a heavy diet, all tend to weaken the kidneys. Your back gives out; you feel depressed and suffer headaches, dizziness and kidney irregularities. Don't go from bad to worse. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Home folks recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

Here's a Wichita Falls case: A. M. Green, retired farmer, 306 Lee street, says: "My back and kidneys got in pretty bad shape caused by a cold. My back was sore and I could hardly do my work. Later the Russian delegation officially notified the three presidents of the conference of Russia's unalterable determination to abandon none of her rights in the negotiations over the straits which directly affect her vital interests.

WILL ATTEMPT TO PROVE AN ALIBI IN HERRIN MINE CASE

ATTORNEY PROMISES TESTIMONY THAT MEN WERE NOT PRESENT

DECLARES KILLING WAS RESULT OF "INVASION"

Charges Prosecution Is Influenced By Illinois Chamber of Commerce

MARION ILL Dec 13—Testimony to show five men charged with murder in connection with the Herrin mine killings had no part in the killing but were elsewhere at the time of the killings was promised by A W Kerr chief counsel of the Illinois Mine Workers in his opening statement to the jury the first of the miners to stand trial here today Twelve men are charged with the death of Howard Hoffman one of the non union men killed in the outbreak

Mr Kerr declared the killing of the nonunion men was the result of an invasion of Williamson county by armed guards and the culmination of a series of brutality culminating in the ruthless murder of thirteen non coal miners

He asserted Williamson county rose in the defense of its men adding that it is the act of self defense I serve notice on the American gunmen and upon those who employ the American gunmen that this was not a safe community in which to send hired murderers

The miners fought also to protect their union he said

The prosecuting authorities in Illinois he said were being influenced by a private organization composed of men of great wealth the Illinois chamber of commerce

Actuated by a desire for vengeance he continued eager to do anything that will help to destroy organized labor the chamber of commerce is the organization that prosecutes in this case You and you alone stand between these defendants and the city for vengeance

Describes Operations

Mr Kerr described operations at the Lester strip mine owned by the Southern Illinois Coal company and said the union had agreed to permit the company to strip coal but not to mine it Its declared the company broke the agreement and imported guards armed with machine guns with high power rifles with automatic police pistols with all the most destructive firearms known to modern science

He then gave an outline of 24 labor disputes in which he declared "hired gunmen were used beginning with the Homestead strike in 1892 and continuing through Cripple Creek, Colo., Ludlow Mingo the Michigan copper strikes and up to the present He declared more than 250 workers have been killed in these disputes by gunmen who went unpunished for their acts

The killing of Howard Hoffman was homicide and murder he contended Some day and in some court room a jury will say that the time has come to stop the importation into peaceful communities of this type of men I believe that day will come in this trial I believe that it is this jury that will immortalize itself by freeing all communities for all time from the sinister influence of the American gunmen

Tracing the history of the miners union in Williamson county Mr Kerr declared the men sought to organize to better the condition of their helpless but were met at every step by the powerful forces of organized capital

LONDON Dec 13—A supplementary estimate for one million pounds sterling for the relief of unemployed was agreed to by the house of commons today after the close of a 10 hour session prolonged by the tactics of the labor party

The laborites had agreed to try to keep the house in session until it is prorogued Friday night in an effort to force the government to take further steps toward the alleviation of unemployment Members of the party endeavored to get the issue discussed at every available opportunity during the session but a motion for closure made by Stanley Baldwin chancellor of the exchequer at about 6 30 o'clock this morning was carried by a substantial majority The motion was hailed with cries of "shame" "gag" and "scandal" while epithets of a more personal character were hurled at the occupants of the treasury bench

The session which adjourned at 6 o'clock was tinged with humor and bitterness

"In this a new game of patience we are learning" asserted a labor member of the speaker in the early morning hours

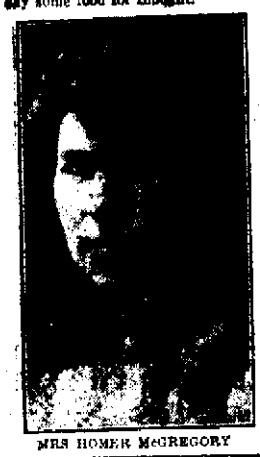
Mrs. McGregor's Report to Parent Teacher Association Tuesday Is Food for Thought for the Mothers

"The state of Texas ranks 34th in education among the states in the Union.

"Sixty-four per cent of our girls and 77 per cent of our boys in Texas never enter high school.

"And in 1920 the state of Texas allowed $14 per capita for her school children, while this year she allowed only $10."

Mrs. Homer McGregor, reading from statistical notes taken at the recent meeting of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Association in Waco, to which meeting she was the Wichita Falls delegate, gave the mothers at the Parent-Teacher Federation meeting Tuesday some food for thought.



MRS HOMER McGREGORY

Continuing the report, she told of the educational plans of the Mothers Congress of the state, and urged the local parent-teacher club members to educate themselves fully on the subject of school taxation, legislation for education, etc., and be prepared to insist on better school facilities and opportunities for their children.

She emphasized the fact that Texas, ranking first in many things in the Union, and high in wealth, was almost at the end of the line in education.

2,129 Members.

The meeting was held in the auditorium of the First Baptist church, with Mrs. John Kay, president, in the chair. It was the most energetic and interested get-together and business session the mothers' club federation has ever held, and there were representatives from every ward school present. Each club presented a report of membership and work for the year, the total membership numbering 2,129 women, with a total of $3,621.86 raised during the year for various school causes.

The Barwise Council, with twenty members present, won the $5 attendance prize offered by Mrs. A. H. Carrigan and the beautiful fern offered by Mrs. Kay for the greatest proportionate increase in membership, carrying off both honors amid applause. The Fannin and Bowie school clubs were close second and third.

Dr. McKeever Talks.

At the close of the regular business meeting a large group of visiting club women were admitted and about 200 women heard a good talk by Dr. McKeever, visiting Chicago psychologist, on "Child Psychology."

In the count of the council representations the following was reported:

Alamo Council, 33. (Mothers present).
Fannin Council, 25.
Bowie Council, 24.
High School Mothers, 20
Barwise Council, 20.
Junior High, 16.
Carrigan, 9.
San Jacinto, 7.
Austin, 7.
Sam Houston, 3.

On the Program.

During the program two much appreciated numbers were furnished by the high school and the San Jacinto school. Miss Hazel Champion of the high school sang a solo, "And a Little Child Shall Lead Them," and Misses Beatrice Haber, Lily May Kerr and Irene Conder danced the Highland Fling, with Miss Nell Kirkland at the piano. Both numbers were excellent and very much applauded.

GOOD MANNERS

While the well-bred Spartan always does her utmost to set at ease a guest who arrives late for a dinner engagement, yet tardiness on such an occasion cannot but cause her great inconvenience.

Therefore it is classed among the gravest of social offenses.

The reason for it must be an excellent one to constitute a real excuse.

Little Trouble to Lengthen Skirts

By MARIAN HALE

In every woman's wardrobe these days is at least one frock, maybe more, useless for wear, because too short.

The fact that it misses the floor by 12 inches or so marks it as a last season's model. Rich material, becoming neckline and lovely shade all are nought.

Sleeves have all the liberty in the world—long, short, loose, close or non-existant.

The waistline may wander freely from the point where the waist really is to the hips.

But the skirt must toe the mark, at least in spots.

In spots—that's the point. It may be short if it's also long.

So the situation is by no means hopeless. To lengthen a skirt is no difficult matter if you have a bolt of ribbon and a bit of ingenuity.

You may add panels to the front, back, sides or to all of them and not only lend the illusion of length, and give the proper uneven line, but you can give yourself the altogether pleasant sensation of a new frock.

For the most serviceable type of frock, satin or moire ribbons the color of the frock are most used, but gowns whose activities are limited to afternoon and evening functions may be gorgeously decorated with figured and brocaded bands, in harmony or contrast.

A dark costume may be pepped up tremendously by a self-toned girdle, outlined at each edge with an inch band of color. Picot-edged ribbon, and the double-faced variet where the under side is of a contrasting color, are greatly liked for these purposes.

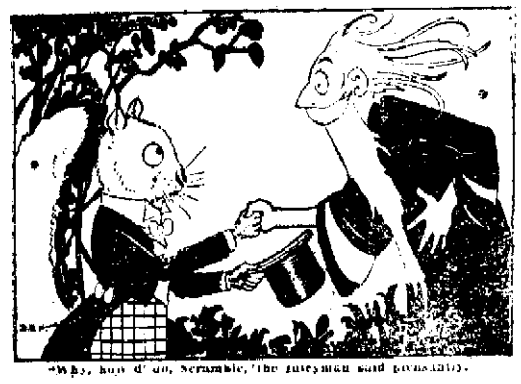
The girl with a taste for millinery makes a very attractive costume by constructing a turban to match her sash. The same gown may have a number of ribbon appliances, each one of which gives a different effect to the frock.

Indeed, rightly treated, your last season's frock may become this season's favorite instead of being relegated to an ignominious position at the back of the clothes closet, or bestowed upon a shorter sister.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

NO SHOES FOR SQUIRREL

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON



"Why, how d' do, Scramble," the fairyman said pleasantly.

It was Scramble Squirrel who wanted the next favor from the Green Wizard.

He climbed to the top of the pine tree where the Green Wizard had his workshop and made his magic.

"Why, how d' do Scramble," the fairyman said pleasantly. "You're quite a stranger. I'm glad to see you."

"Thank you," answered Scramble uneasily and looking as though there was something on his mind. "I hope you'd glad enough to see me to be willing to do me a favor, sir."

"Why, it just depends," remarked the Green Wizard. "It [illegible] depends on what you want."

"Well, you see it's this way," said Scramble. "Sometimes I have to go out and chase off mighty big [illegible] with my friends or [illegible] [illegible] strong like that. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Wizard [illegible] [illegible] "Then [illegible] [illegible] months [illegible] [illegible] season [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that didn't make any noise and wake her up, might be possible."

"Oh, I see, I see," answered the Wizard wisely, shaking his head and putting his finger-tips together.

"Will you?" asked Scramble anxiously.

"I'll have to think," answered the fairyman. "I'm not sure that I can find you say you were out alone, o'nights?"

"Why, yes," answered Scramble. "You see [illegible] always too tired after working and rowing and cooking at [illegible] day, the bus [illegible] go to bed early."

"[illegible] you do all day?"

"Oh, [illegible] I have to gather nuts [illegible] for winter. And you know [illegible] I always meet pretty [illegible] and I want to stop and chat [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

JUDGE BERRY TALKS OF COOPERATION TO VERNON ROTARIANS

DEPLORES FAILURE OF U S TO JOIN LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

RESPECT FOR LAW IS URGED BY THE SPEAKER

Compliments Rotarians For the Good Example Set In Civic Matters.

VERNON, TEXAS, Dec 13.—Judge W D Berry senior member of the firm of Berry Stokes and Killough attorneys of Vernon addressed the Rotarians at their weekly luncheon at the Bailey hotel Tuesday noon Judge Berry spoke on the subject "The Co perative Spirit" and he made a great impression on his hearers The president of the club expressed the appreciation of the members to Judge Berry for his speech to them and stated that the Rotarians were glad to hear talks along the line of the address made by Judge Berry

Judge Berry spoke in part as follows "All great business enterprises are built along the lines of corporation Corporation is necessary before any business can be a success The success of our great corporations like the big steel interests the big oil interests and the large banking institutions of New York City has been brought about by the cooperative spirit

The greatest scheme and plan of cooperation and one that would have meant more to the people of the earth than anything presented during the past few centuries was the plan of the league of nations presented by that matchless statesman Woodrow Wilson I do not hesitate to say that had it been adopted that we would at this time be five years ahead of where we are at this time It probably would have needed some amendments but these could have been worked out and would have been made to meet the needs for which it was planned and yet satisfied those who opposed it But for the selfish politicians who were jealous of the plan and the work of President Wilson we would now be enjoying the good times that would have followed our joining the league of nations and accepting our responsibilities as we should have done Had this been done we would have settled in six months our foreign trade relations and our exchange rate and intricate problems that are even at this time baffling our statesmen

Farmers at that time would have a market for their crops and where there are now low prices for farm products there would be a demand for them even greater than could be supplied

Law Enforcement

We have a great government and a great constitution but lack of respect for our laws is the greatest menace we have to face at this time I have no patience for parties who disregard some of laws and still think they are acting the part of good citizens We may have some bad laws and if we have we should obey them until the are repealed and necessary steps should be taken to repeal them and not to show our dislike for the such laws by violating them Some good citizens will violate small laws such as the sunday laws and game laws and they violate them without regard to the example they are setting others and without the knowledge that to violate these laws makes it easier to violate other laws In this way they are disregarding constituted authority Then when we disregard our laws we disregard the rights of others and then follows the disregard of our own obligations

I can remember the time when a cold check was never heard of but now it is a common thing I am sure that some of you business men find it a big get rich tail cold checks in the course of your business each week or month Public opinion could be molded so that it would be a man who would be ashamed to walk the streets or show his face until he had paid his checks gambling made an honest effort to make people feel that the laws are respected and enforced

Judge Berry spoke of the cooperative spirit in the Vernon churches of friendly rivalry in the various sunday schools of the city and of the good that would result from good churches and good Sunday schools He spoke of the important factor the Rotarians could be to Vernon by the good example they set in observing the laws and making the town clean and attractive and so of being friendly to strangers and making Vernon a place where people want to come and make their home

J L Rossman manager of the Vernon Electric and Ice company which company has bought out the Texas Public Service company made a short speech He stated that he was sending on each of his envelopes a short statement of Wilbarger county's fine $5 500 000 cotton crop and that he wanted a slogan for Vernon and would use it if he had one as it would be a great benefit for the town

The jitney club indorsed the poultry show that will be held in Vernon soon

A meeting of the board of directors of the Rotary club was held at the Bailey hotel after the luncheon

AS A MECHANIC BUSTER IS A GOOD TOE DANCER

BUSTER KEATON

From an apprentice blacksmith down to an erratic automobile mechanic, Buster Keaton, solemn-visaged comedian of the silver screen tumbles his way through two reels of fun in "The Blacksmith," his latest comedy A First National attraction at the Empress for the last half of the week

As in previous efforts young Keaton keeps the humor in "The Blacksmith" reviving at high speed The comedy itself bears that stamp of artistic slapstick which marks all of Buster's smile reels Through the atmosphere of the blacksmith shop where Buster demonstrates his inventive genius to the final amusing windup, Buster Keaton is shown in his best mirth-getting style

The picture has a plot in which Buster anxious to win the favor of the fair young lady in the picture is forced to go through many acrobatic physicalities in order to overcome the antipathy the young lady has shown for him He effects the rescue of the girl manages to elude those who are seeking vengeance, because of his innocent pranks in previous scenes and gets married, thereby giving the film a happy ending The picture was written by Buster Keaton and Mal St. Clair.

HI-Y CLUB TO GIVE JOINT BENEFIT PROGRAM AIDED BY GIRLS' CLUB

The Hi-Y club of the Wichita Falls high school met at their club rooms at 1601 Lamar street Tuesday evening for their regular weekly meeting A short program was enjoyed and business was discussed.

It was planned by the club to give a joint program with the Girls club in the auditorium of the high school soon, for charity benefit. A small admission will be charged.

It was also decided to divide the club into four groups with captains over each of the sections. This is to aid the attendance, for the group having the least per cent at the end of the year will bear the expense of a banquet for the other groups. The groups will take charge of the programs, each having this responsibility once per month.

The Bible study for the meeting was "Gambling" and the evils and meaning of gambling were brought out A two round boxing match between two of the members was also featured in the meeting.

Canned Heat User Objects to Being Source of Revenue

"Why, your honor, I wasn't drunk that is just my natural condition and every time the city needs a few dollars they come down to Old Dee's place and bring me to the city hall" an aged man who is a familiar figure in the police court told Judge Bert King in the corporation court Wednesday morning

The man admitted that he did drink a little canned heat occasionally. He was given the minimum fine of one dollar for drunkenness and told to leave off the "canned heat." The defendant in another case of intoxication admitted that he had taken "about three fingers of hair tonic" but denied that he was intoxicated. "Hostetters bitters," "canned heat" and "hair tonic" along with other intoxicating "beverages" came up for their share of the discussion. The man was fined $10

WEDNESDAY DEC 13 1922

10,000 MURDERS.

More than 10 000 murders were committed in the United States during 1921. This is revealed by a check-up conducted by Dr Frederick L Hoffman consulting statistician of the Prudential Insurance company

Hoffman found that 28 leading cities, with combined population of 20,558 770, had 1910 murders last year

On a population basis this is over 10 000 known murders for the whole country To them must be added the unknown number of murders that are successfully concealed and do not show up in the police reports These probably run into the thousands.

The death toll should draw a grim smile from the Turks next time America gets excited about Armenian massacres.

Open pigeonholes in your memory compare records, and the thought occurs to you that just about as many Americans are murdered as are killed by autos.

Hard to decide, which of the two is more amazing

Picture a town of 10,000 inhabitants, all murdered in cold blood during one night. A frightful picture. But it's a true picture of the murder situation in so-called civilized America.

Spread out over a gigantic territory and divided among our millions of people, with a murder here and there, day after day, and we lose sight of the terrible total

Dr Hoffman found that the 1921 murder rate was a fraction more than nine out of every 100 000 Americans

Allowing for concealed murders that are never definitely discovered (including many "missing persons" cases), a conservative estimate is that one American in every 10 000 is murdered yearly

Meaning Your chance of being slain is one in 10,000 each year, one in 1,000 during a period of 10 years Figure it up over a lifetime and, if you lived 100 years one chance in 100 of being murdered

The brighter side of the picture is that, while more than 10 000 are murdered in a year, at least 100,000 000 are not murdered As in all other forms of crime evil is "far and away" in the minority That's why evil gets so much attention—it's the exception the unusual

Most of us after all, are decent law abiding citizens

MORE STARVATION IN RUSSIA.

In some parts of Russia there was a very good grain crop last season, while in others the crop was scanty

It might be expected that the soviet government would buy grain from the sections where there is a production over the needs of the people and distribute it in the sections where the crop was so scanty that the people are in want But such does not appear to be the intention of the Lenine et al Armies and private cars for government heads and the maintenance of thousands of officials and the purchase of supplies from Germany requires some real money And the only manner in which the soviet government can obtain money is to confiscate the crops of the peasants and pay them in worthless paper and in turn to sell these crops outside the country for gold

That is what it is reported the soviet is doing with the excess grain crops produced in certain sections while the people are starving in other sections

The communists in Russia set about deliberately to destroy everything that represented wealth in that country, they also systematically have been killing or driving from the country all the men of learning They may have gotten the idea that people—that is people who cannot contribute anything for the upkeep of the army and the officials—are a nuisance and ought to starve anyway

ABOUT A NEW CONSTITUTION FOR TEXAS.

Opinion is almost unanimous that Texas needs a new constitution Our present constitution was adopted in 1876, but that is not the reason it is out of date The federal constitution was adopted nearly a hundred years before our state constitution and yet there is no agitation for a convention to draft a new constitution for the United States One of the troubles with the Texas constitution is that it attempts to do too much It is a much longer instrument than the constitution of the United States and in some details it is legislative That is the reason why it is out of date Matters that seemed to require legislation in 1875 have changed since that time, but as this legislation was written into the constitution it is very difficult to affect a change now.

If Texas in 1875 had drafted a constitution providing a declaration of principles a bill of rights and the division of the state government into its three co-ordinate branches, executive, legislative and judicial, leaving the people a wide freedom in legislation we would not today find some of the provision of it archaic.

There are fundamental principles in government there are rights that should be held inviolate, and it is necessary for the people to have the machinery of a representative government When these things are provided for we ought to have enough faith in the people and in posterity to give them a constitution without detailed legislation.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WHOEVER YOU ARE,

Teacher, perhaps—standing up long hours before a class of restless, though inwardly good and wholesome "young scamps." Knowingly full of responsibility and love for a better race.

Or soil man—rising early and retiring late, rough handled, honest hearted, wholesome minded. Taught by the lessons of the fields

Or mother—with crying babies, all the time getting into trouble and calling you from this and that, healing with kisses, comforting with pats and hugs All day long, never complaining but willingly accepting dreaming, planning, loving—far, far ahead

Or stenographer—drumming away at machine keys for hours and hours thinking how best to serve, how best to please how best to improve And then going home with a tired back and aching fingers.

Or scrub woman—kneeling over dirty floors, mopping, scrubbing, wondering, wishing Mindful of others or better days, maybe. Active while the other part of the world sleeps or is at play.

Or engineer—looking out of your cab window through rain, or fog or storm, while your passengers read or talk, or sleep in peace and thoughtlessness of you Driving your big engine with pride of heart, confident, glad of leadership in a world of commerce

Or poet—writing of the sentiments, the beauties, the wonders, the mysteries Lifting by your words great population, cities of men and women and little children, and leading them into gardens and heavens

Or shut in—bearing your pain or misfortune with vital fortitude and all the time thinking of those who walk and run and play.

You are why there is a God—a real God You are the "salt of this earth"

KEEP AT IT

If you really want to win,
Keep at it'
When a task you once begin,
Keep at it'
It may baffle you today,
Men may laugh at your dismay,
But some day you'll find the way,
Keep at it'

If you've started for a goal,
Keep at it'
With your heart and mind and soul
Keep at it!
Make mistakes, as people must,
But get up and shake the dust
From your garments and then just
Keep at it'

When you've learned where you are weak,
Keep at it'
You can win the joy you seek
Keep at it
Study, practice, think and plan
Make yourself a better man,
If another can you can—
Keep at it

Even though you fail today,
Keep at it
Never throw your dream away
Keep at it
Let the thoughtless laugh and jeer
Then pretend you do not hear
When you've conquered they will cheer—
Keep at it

Keep at it day and night,
Keep at it'
If you d paint, or sing, or write
Keep at it'
Hold the goal you crave in view
There is much that you can do
By and by you'll win, if you
Keep at it'

Reform Crusade Waxes Hotter

By KITCHEL PIXLEY
(Our Own Special Correspondent)

MOGADORE Dec 13—Cherry old Seth Beardsley who beat yours truly for constable, is still pushin' his reform crusade, Seth bein' determined to get the wimmin's support for his administration, and their endorsement bein precious enough to make any officeholder commit bigamy polygamy or maybe anything for the sake of gettin' it.

OLD ILLINOIS-MICHIGAN CANAL IS DOOMED TO GO

CHICAGO Dec 1 —The old Illinois and Michigan canal down whose towpaths the mule drivers once directed the commerce of the state is doomed

Governor Len Small is expected to recommend the abandonment of the inland waterway down the Illinois River when it leaves the last of the locks off the little canal which has served the state since 1848

The old canal between Joliet and Grand Rondo southward is to be abandoned but the section from a stretch from Brandon Lake to LaSalle will be maintained at least for the present to handle pleasure boats and other small craft

Originally the "I & M" ran from Chicago to LaSalle but construction of the Chicago drainage canal to Lockport eliminated a 40 mile section The I & M carried 74 000 000 tons of freight between 1860 and 1918 In the 22 years between 1848 and 1860 the canal had paid for itself from the tolls collected

In recent years the traffic has been light because it could no longer compete with modern railroad service When first built the canal was 26 feet wide and 10 feet deep with a capacity of 140 tons of freight which was adequate to handle the traffic of a state equal to the present railroad traffic of that time Competition with the railroads continued up until 1897 when large trains cut the canal tonnage under that of the canal trains Although millions of tons of freight have been moved over the canal since 1897 each year the canal's greatest loss

YOU AND I

By ALBERT APPLE

LUXURY.

What is your idea of the last word in luxury? Caligula, Roman emperor had a favorite horse named Irritatus. He fed his horse glided oats from an ivory manger in a marble stable, and allowed him to drink only the most delicious wines Irritatus had a palace with servants in which he "entertained" other horses Caligula also appointed this favorite steed a consul or honorary chief magistrate

Fine to read about But this luxury was supported by human slavery So is nearly all modern luxury

NERO.

The "Golden House of Nero" was more than a mile long It contained artificial lakes orchards and wonderous gardens The palace of the emperor was floored with tiles of solid gold. Walls and ceilings were inlaid with gold, jewels, ivory. The roof of the banquet hall resembled the sky at night, the stars and moon moving mechanically with astronomical accuracy Occasionally from this artificial sky, came a rain of perfume drops

No we don't have such luxuries in modern civilization But there are several rich men in America who could have a more costly palace if they wanted to. The people do not object to gigantic wealth as long as it is kept under cover instead of goadingly flaunted before their eyes

"BARBAROUS."

Turkey bars the importation of alcoholic drinks Present stocks must be consumed within 60 days, or be destroyed

At Angora the Turkish government makes a law all Turks must submit to medical examination before marriage

The deposed sultan's fabulous wealth will be confiscated—but only after carefully debated legislation

The "barbarous Turk" seems to be getting civilized whatever that is No one has ever given a satisfactory and comprehensive definition of "civilized" Can you?

TABOO.

Latest inventory shows over 16 000,000 gallons of whisky stored in distilleries and bonded warehouses It will console wets to know that the stuff still exists somewhere even if it is taboo

What will be prohibited next? You never can tell Maine begins enforcing a law prohibiting the service of ice in any kind of drink even water, in hotels or public eating places The ice cannot come in contact with the fluid to be drunk This is sensible prohibition—where ice is apt to contain germs Individuals will object preferring to let people decide for themselves.

PRESENTS.

An auction of unclaimed parcels from the dead letter branch of the parcelpost is held in the east It brings about $7 500 The parcels when opened are found to contain everything from toy mice to shot guns

Meantime people who mailed the parcels are wondering why they weren't delivered The answer is They were addressed improperly and could be neither delivered nor returned to the senders

Address your Christmas parcels carefull Be sure to write your return address in ink on the packages Labels may come off 101.

A man 101 years old in Terre Haute Ind estimates wrongly in saying a guardian appointed for him He says he realizes he is old that he is incompetent to handle his own affairs

A lot of talk about science prolonging human life its weak point is that it is based on reinstating the body not much attention to restoring youth to the mind Does little without the other The wise old man of 101 knows it

THE GREAT CYPHER

CHAPTER II

Chauvannes found that wilderness veined through with these camps precisely as Stanley found it when he was following the Ituri in his effort to relieve Emin Pasha. All Chauvannes seems to have had precisely the same experiences as Stanley, in that the poisoned arrows which the dwarf tribes used were always fatal to the natives but not to the white men of the expedition. At least the three white men with Chauvannes and the explorer himself always escaped while the persistent destruction of the other members of the expedition continued not only Chauvannes and the three white men came out alive

The expedition was not large It was as small as Chauvannes could get on with He never intended to be more than a scouting party for the thing he was planning for The discovery of the emerald was a sort of accident in removing the portion of an ancient wall that an uprooted tree had dislodged

There was a moment's silence Then Monsieur Jonquelle went on

I said awhile ago that the incredible things set out in the journal did not begin to appear until about the seventeenth of December when they had finally come out It is true that some indicators things are noted in the journal before that date Chauvannes could not sleep He returns again and again to this fact Bromides did no good He continues to complain about the failure of the bromides If orders if the drugs have lost their virtue or if they could not have any effect He notes that he tried them with one of the [illegible] the other The bromides were right The fact gave him a good deal of concern He could not sleep And the drugs upon which the medical profession depend in such a case failed

We find this feature in considerable detail and beginning some time before December seventeenth while the excitation was still the first of the Congo in its awful march to the northeast

I don't know when it was that Chauvannes realized what was [illegible] him but as I have said [illegible] he said it almost from the first of the month

I set down that I recall word for word the sentence I felt at the time that no one [illegible] understand it that the thing meant something which might to appear we were able to grasp a proper conception of it I felt before it as I used to feel before those clever German dispatches which appear on their faces to be merely a narrative of a domestic incident when in reality were in fact army orders containing a definite direction I was right, as events proved but the government authorities in Paris at the time considered my notion fantastic

Still as I have said the strange digressions in this journal did not begin to appear until about the seventeenth day of December when they came out into the great grass-covered plateau outlined to the east by a low mountain range beneath which lay Lake Albert Nyanza As it happened they had come out ten days ahead of the date which they had determined upon for the arrival of the lake boat It was to receive the expedition at the same point on the Nyanza at Stanley had done The camped on a grass slope that looked like an English park Chauvannes said within the first day's march out of the forest there they remained

Chauvannes had all the modern implements that an explorer carries with him and he had [illegible] not in addition of this [illegible] most painstaking a man [illegible] started [illegible] in every variety of way [illegible] He was [illegible] beyond any possibility of error And he did not fail The exact location of that camp is as certain as any location on Belgian Congo territory It can be located today within the error of half a meter He had plenty of time for this [illegible] Chauvannes remained in this camp while the other men went [illegible] the Nyanza

The route to the lake could not be laid out to its eye It was a [illegible] by bowing market [illegible] memory of the expedition [illegible] the men with Chauvannes thought [illegible] letter to be certain of the way out [illegible] as they had to put in the time until the boat arrived It seemed [illegible] able to go over the route The African beat he under [illegible] and the [illegible] set out for Albert Leture remaining in the camp with Chauvannes

It was here alone with Leture that Chauvannes finished the journal which I finally [illegible] might say at the Service de la Sureté in Paris

I have said that the only thing indicating Chauvannes condition be

Chauvannes could not sleep.

[illegible] the seventeenth of December [illegible] came out on the [illegible] track into this heavenly [illegible] below the Albert was the [illegible] could [illegible] that [illegible] felt [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

WAGGONER WELL IN HIRSCHI FIELD IS SETTING CASING

SEVERAL TESTS IN NEW DISTRICT DUE FOR COMPLETION SOON.

TEXHOMA GETS SHALLOW PRODUCER ON M. PARKER

Two Tests On Sand In Freeman-Hampton Field; New Wildcat Well In Archer.

Drilling operations on the several tests now drilling in the vicinity of the Hirschi well in block 834 are being watched closely at present. Casing is being set at 1800 feet in the R. M. Waggoner test in block 803 a short distance to the east on the Allen-Foster land. South of the Waggoner test J. Judge Moore is drilling in the neighborhood of 1600 feet. Northwest the Texhoma company is drilling at 1600 on the Hirsch tract, and the No. 2 of Figg and Keltz is close to 1700 feet.

The discovery well is keeping up production and is at present producing 475 barrels daily.

Gets Shallow Well.

I. F. (Jink) Hammond of this city has completed a nice 23-barrel well on his 50 acres in the Grace Jennings tract, in section 12, south Electra field in what looks like a new depth for this part of the field. The top of the sand was picked up at 1914 feet which was drilled to 1924. The nearest shallow production to the above well is the Van-Avery 500-foot wells about 800 feet southeast in the same section.

Shallow Producer on Parker.

The Texhoma company has completed a 10-barrel well in the 1260-foot sand on Block 5, Mattie Parker lands. This well is 1800 feet southeast of the Orth well on the Parker. Between it and the Orth well a dry hole was drilled, to the same sand, by Holbrook and Woods.

New 150-Barrel Well.

Knight et al., who are the discoverers of the 1580 foot sand in the Freeman-Hampton pool, have added another oil well to the pool in their No. 1-B lease, Ferguson lands.

This is the third well which Mr. Knight and his associates have brought in. Their new well topped the sand at 1579 feet. The well has been bailed, tubing set, and connected with the tank.

Knight et al are down 100 feet on their No. 9 well, B lease, and are drilling at 800 feet on their No. 3-A lease.

Featherston Gets a Well.

C. H. Featherston and associates drilling on the Ferguson lands southeast of the Freeman-Hampton pool have found the sand at 1607 feet. Casing is being set and the well will be drilled in and bailed Friday. This well will make an extension of the pool to the southeast.

Derrick has just been completed on block 124, Jackson farm, Aldridge survey, New Colony lands, nine miles northeast of Archer City and east of the Texhoma-Goss field by Knight and Hines. Drilling operations will start in the next few days.

Legion Wins From Baptist Quintet By One-Sided Score

In a walkover the Legion team won over the Baptist by a score of 54 to 17 on the Legion court Tuesday night. The Baptist tried substitutions and every play in the basket ball category but were outclassed in every way by the close guarding and effective floor work of the Legion. G. Rogers and Ferguson apparently without effort tossed field goals one after the other and the Baptist were powerless. The score:

A communication from G. L. Foltbre, department adjutant in Dallas, states that the question of the state bonus for ex-service men will come up at the next meeting of the state legislature. A blank, with the request that the post express itself as being for or against the move to introduce a bonus bill in the next session of the Texas legislature, is enclosed in the communication. The blanks have been mailed to all legion posts in the state so that an opinion of ex-service men as a whole may be expressed.

LIONS CLUB STARTS MOVE TO SUPPRESS 'DEGRADING' SHOWS

"OUTRAGE," SAYS HATCHITT, IN DISCUSSING CERTAIN ATTRACTIONS.

OTHER ORGANIZATIONS TO BE ASKED TO HELP

May Ask City Council to Act in Preventing Performances Considered Undesirable.

A motion to solicit the help of the other clubs and civic organizations of the city in arousing the public interest in the suppression of any public performance in the theaters of the city, which has a degrading tendency, was made by Judge J. B. Hatchitt at the meeting of the Lions club at the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday.

The motion passed and a committee to confer with the other clubs in bringing the matter before the public and if necessary to ask the protection of the city council against motion pictures and performances that are vulgar and degrading.

"The invasion by women of all the gainful occupations, the passage of the eighteenth amendment and the degrading influence of our modern amusements," were the causes to which Judge Hatchitt attributed what has been termed as the "moral breakdown." Judge Hatchitt discussed briefly the way in which each of these causes had effected a change in our social and economic life. Particular stress was laid upon the nature of modern amusements, theatrical performances and motion pictures. The speaker called attention to attractions in local theaters which he declared were an "outrage."

"If this moral breakdown could be restricted to one generation little harm would result," the speaker said. "But if it is distributed in the coming generation then the perpetuity of our form of government and civilization is endangered."

J. B. Hatchitt, W. D. Fielding and P. H. Card were appointed a committee to confer with the other clubs of the city in starting a campaign for cleaner amusements.

Misses English and Julia Ross, who J. W. Akin at the piano, entertained the club with a violin duet; they responded to hearty applause with a second number.

FORMER PASTOR HERE WRITES OF INCIDENTS TRANSFERRING CHARGE

CHEROKEE, TEXAS, Nov. 27.—To the Editor, Paul, the divinely commissioned apostle to the Gentiles, was a highly educated son of Abraham and a natural born scattered, whose large epistolary correspondence desirably exhibits the refinement of courtesy. He often thanked people for kindness shown him, mention of their names in his letters to the churches.

In similar fashion the undersigned sincerely attempts that lightsome and brightened the departure of him of and fam by from their parsonage home at 2? Bridge street, Wichita, Kansas, to their new residence in Cherokee among the rocky hills of San Saba county, Texas.

Without embarrassing us we seven were comfortably carried in cars to the union station in the mid-afternoon of November first by the courtesy of Paul Cowart and Brother Huckabee, the golden hearted and capable educational secretary of the First Methodist church, South. On the same day they brought the incoming pastor and household to the hospitable home of the Gilmers on North Side, till the parsonage could be made ready for their occupancy. Feeding the arrival Sunday belated train, the clever cashier of the City National Bank, Brother Oral Jones, "fixed us up as we thought for the whole expense of our transportation running beyond the century mark, as the sequel proved. At the depot in Fort Worth the only acquaintance we met was none other than the Carolina bred gentleman whose efficiently heads the biggest banking institution of the city, that faith in mankind heartily. He too, literally "came to the rescue" by the tender of a bill that met an emergency. Others may call it mere chance, but this dependent esteems it providential. And he hereby gives thanks accordingly.

Arriving next day at noon in San Saba, a brother, one of the stewards from Cherokee, 15 miles distant, who had come to meet us, quickly carried us and our numerous sundry bags in his Ford car to our cottage of abode, where we were hospitably entertained in private homes until the returning pastor could vacate the parsonage. Upon our first night in the parsonage a largely attended and heartily "touch" "pounding party" visited us. And that, too, was distinctly providential.

In this region there is a bountiful and convenient supply of black jack oak wood and the open hearth glows with generous warmth therefrom. The fires are kindled each morning from a bed of red hot coals that smoldered slept in the ashes overnight.

Chickens, turkeys, sheep, hogs and cattle are sources of considerable wealth here. Two thousand of these fine Thanksgiving and Christmas birds were raised within a radius of 15 miles around Cherokee last year and the present year will probably yield as many or more. That all means this is a preacher's paradise, you know.

Superb drinking water is drawn from deep bored wells by means of windmills and it is piped into the houses and premises from large galvanized tanks. Marble and granite of excellent grade is quarried.

Daily mail arrives in midafternoon from Llano and San Saba, and jitney cars bring passengers while large trucks deliver freight.

We send greeting to all our friends. W. A. BETTS.

CLARA PHILLIPS IS IN MEXICO! BUT NO PLACE IS SAFE FOR HER

—SAYS WILLIAM J. BURNS

By HARRY HUNT
NEA Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—"Clara Phillips is in Mexico, of course."

That's the answer given emphatically and without hesitation by William J. Burns, world famous detective and chief of the United States secret service, to the query:

"Where is Clara Phillips, escaped Los Angeles hammer murderess?"

"What chance has she of evading capture?" I then asked the famous detective chief.

"No place is safe for her," BURNS Burns replied. "Even if she evades immediate capture, the chances are she will be turned up and identified sooner or later, and brought back to face justice.

"But in her favor, temporarily at least, is the fact that at present we have no treaty of extradition with Mexico, as this government has no official relationship with the present government in Mexico.

"Nicaragua would be another comparatively safe refuge, and has long been a favorite place with escaped criminals and fugitives.

"In almost any European country she probably would be identified. Italy would offer the only comparative safety in Europe, as extradition from that country always has been difficult.

Extradition Difficult.

"My belief, however, is that she headed straight into Mexico and is there long before this. Locating her there will not be the only difficulty in getting her back, in view of the lack of extradition agreements, would be complicated. And the opportunities for safe hiding there are many.

"It is mighty seldom, however, that an escaped convict finds permanent safety. Once in a while a man is begged after 10 or 15 years. Escapees after two or three years are frequent. They are mighty few who, after a few months or a year or two, do not return to the states to their old haunts.

"An instance of how captures are effected after long chases is that of Schmidt and Kaplan, whom I arrested three years after the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times. One of them we got on Broadway, the other on a little island up near Tacoma, Wash.

All Services Help.

"Another celebrated case was that of the fellow wanted in connection with the disappearance of a Montreal theater owner—Small. I believe his name was. A Burns operative located him in a little town away up in Oregon.

"The coordination established between federal, state, county and municipal authorities by the federal bureau of identification now makes it virtually impossible for anyone to change or disguise themselves to escape identification. Bertillon measurements sometimes err.

"Physical characteristics covered by those measurements change. But fingerprints remain unchanged throughout life and they will make it possible to identify Mrs. Phillips when she is located or ventures back into the states again—whether next year or 10 years from now."

(Copyright 1922, NEA Service).

MRS. CLARA PHILLIPS.

"Where is Clara Phillips?"

That question is being asked in every city and town in the nation as today's Service goes to press.

NEA Service put the question to William J. Burns, world's foremost detective and chief of the United States secret service.

His answer is given herewith.

Should Mrs. Phillips be captured before this story reaches you, Hunt's story will be of immense interest to your readers as a clear, concise statement of the chance criminals have to elude justice.

DRINGS SHARP WARNING TO ANGORA DELEGATION

LAUSANNE, Dec. 13.—A refusal by Turkey at this morning's session of the near east conference to accede to the demand for a national home for the Armenians or international regulation of the rights of the minorities in Turkey brought a sharp warning to the Angora delegation from Marquis Curzon, head of the British delegation.

The British foreign secretary told the Turkish delegation that persistent intrusion of barriers to a satisfactory settlement of the minorities problems was having a bad effect on the conference and the entire world.

"When we leave Lausanne—and it may be we shall leave soonest than you think—when the world sees that the allied powers have been fighting the battles of the minorities and getting nothing but ingratitude in return, the general impression will be deplorable for Turkey," said Lord Curzon.

"Do not let us darken this sense by charges and counter charges of horrors. We wish to obtain a solution for the future.

"I deeply regret this proposal for the exchange of population, this sad and vicious solution for which the world will pay for a hundred years to come. I detest having agreed to it. But to say that the Greeks proposed it is misrepresentation. It has been forced by the Turks through their expulsion of Greeks.

"It is perfectly clear that the Turks wish to rid themselves of the Greeks or to make their condition of life in Turkey cruel and impossible."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The Growth of Electra.

Editor The Times:

Many arguments have been concerning the population of Electra. When the census was taken in 1920 it gave the number as 4,744 but at that time many were missed in the enumeration and not were enumerated at the different theatres. I find out how many were missed by the census taker and over 200 names were taken in this way. During the last two months I have made a careful enumeration and I find that there is now a population of 5,670 in the city limits of Electra. This does not include those that live on the outskirts of the city and who get their mail at this post office. This shows that the population has increased nearly double in the last two years and we are still growing, and people are every day enquiring for houses but there are not any houses for rent. If some person would build some rent houses they could have tenants for them before they were finished.

FAIL TO ESTABLISH A MOTIVE FOR KILLING

CHANNEL IS CLOSED AT DIVERSION DAM, BUILDING SPILLWAY

Closing of the river channel by the diversion dam embankment has been effected by contractors on the structure. The earthen fill having been completed to a height of six feet across the stream.

The damming of the stream before the completion of the spillway is considered a risky undertaking and a heavy rain would do serious damage, however a temporary wooden spillway is under construction and [illegible] Heyser of the construction company is holding for the same good luck that attended his work on the storage dam.

Excavation for the head gate of the canal intake and for the main service spillway is well advanced with a number of teams and improved shovels at work.

DRASTIC ACTION IN KLEPPER CASE

By NEA Service

LOUISVILLE, KY., Dec. 13.—Everybody seems to be kicking William H. Klepper for a goal. By way of introduction William H. Klepper is president of the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league.

Perhaps it would be more correct to say that Klepper was president. At the present time his baseball status is rather clouded.

At a recent meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues in Louisville Mr. Klepper was forever barred from further participation in the affairs of that organization.

About a year ago Klepper got in hot water with Commissioner Landis and was placed on baseball's ineligible list until 1926 for alleged attempts to defraud the Seattle Washington club out of the services of Manager William Kenworthy.

While in Seattle's service La Dieu alleges Klepper and Brewster agreed to put the Portland franchise have Kenworthy declared a free agent and take him to Portland as manager. Klepper and Brewster each had one share of stock in the Seattle club. La Dieu says the other holders of the 900 shares of stock were kept in ignorance of the deal.

While the situation is deplorable, says Landis, in summing up his ruling, it must be distinctly understood as a fundamental fact that no club will be permitted to profit from conditions fraudulently created on another club with the definite purpose of enticing that club's players away.

He Handles the Money

A native son of Texas, D. L. Cobb, secretary-treasurer of the Lone Star Gas Company, has been with this company since its inception, when Fort Worth was the only community supplied. Previous to that Mr. Cobb was secretary of the Navarro Refining Company, the predecessor of the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

In these duties Mr. Cobb has supervised the expenditure of many millions of dollars that have gone into the drilling of wells, the building of pipe lines, the installation of compressors, the purchase of leases, and the hundred and one other expenses that are necessary to the maintenance of a great system covering 875 miles of mains, 250 wells and all the other equipment.

Spirit of Service

To his exacting duties Mr. Cobb has applied ability and experience, and in his work contributes in no small degree to the spirit of service that actuates this organization—a far sighted determination to provide for the people of North Texas the best producing and transporting natural gas plant possible.

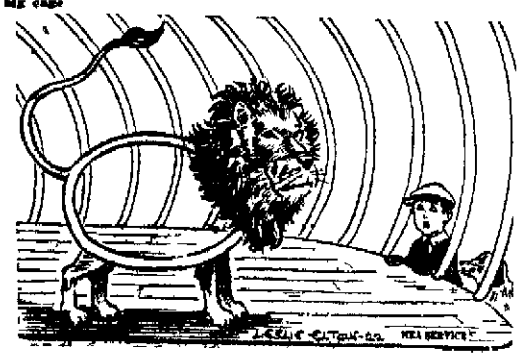
JACK DAW IN HOOPLAND

By FILTON

"Now" said one of the little Hoopsy Dinkies after the singing was over "we will take the visitors to the Hoopland zoo" This time Jack Daw was told to take hip and all sidewaps in a flying hoop we on had rolled up to his side He did so and was soon lifted off the ground

While sailing through the air Jack looked down and saw all the Hoopsy Dinkies and the other hoops rolling along on the ground Some were jumping up and down and they caused a great cloud of dust Then the flying hoop settled down to the ground and let Jack off in front of a big cage



"Here we have the Hoopland lion" announced a little hoop who stood just outside the cage door The lion roared as if to greet Jack and Flip answered the huge king of Hoopland wild beasts with a meek bark Then they moved on and next came to an animal which was made of two hoops (Continued)

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Yesterday's sharp advance was followed by moderate reactions in the cotton pits here at the opening today. There was no overnight change in government report, but Liverpool was relatively easy and the market here opened at a decline of 1 to 3 points under liquidation and scattered selling. December was easy owing to the circulation of about 200 points and sold off to 24.15, 16 points not lower. The reaction in Liverpool, however, was attributed to the advance in sterling which discouraged the hope of increased exports after selling at 24.30 to 24.40. January contracts here declined to 25.12 or a point above yesterday's closing.

Trading became more active later with the market showing increased strength which appeared to be influenced by expectations of an improvement in export business. Such news were encouraged by the continued firmness of sterling and by indications from Washington that the administration was more disposed to aid in the solution of European problems.

Houses with foreign trade connections were credited with buying here and the local market worked up to 25.45 for January or 30 points net higher. There was enough realizing to cause reactions of 8 or 9 points from the best, but the market was firm around midday.

The early afternoon advance extended to 25.50 for January contracts with the general list selling about 23 to 41 points net higher. There was enough realizing to check the movement at this level but prices were within 5 or 6 points of the top around 2 o'clock.

Cotton closed steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13.—Poor cables caused recessions of 3 to 6 points on the more active months in the cotton market around the opening today, but buying orders were soon under the market and by the end of the first half hour prices were 4 to 7 points higher than the close of yesterday.

January first traded off to 24.76 and then reacted to 24.95 cents a pound.

[illegible] purchasing on a road sale developed and the market showed power to rally quickly from minor reactions due to profit taking on the part of holders. The close was unsettled 18 to 24c net higher with May $1.22½ to $ and July $1.14½ to $.

Corn and oats climbed with wheat. May and July corn reached the top most figures of this season. After opening unchanged to ½c higher, May 72½ to 72c, the corn market showed uptorns all around.

Heavy selling on the part of houses with eastern connections brought about further advances later. The close was firm, ¼ to 1½c net higher, with May 73½ to ¾c.

Oats started unchanged to ¼c off, May 43½c, and later showed a substantial advance.

Provisions were heavily affected by weakness of hog values.

SEVERE WEATHER FAILS TO KEEP 'EM AWAY FROM ATTRACTION AT PALACE

Notwithstanding the severe weather, a good sized crowd witnessed the second performance of "What's Your Husband Doing?" at the Palace theatre Tuesday night and demonstrated their appreciation of this splendid play by frequent applause. This was in addition to the almost continuous laughter provoked by the many comedy situations with which the play abounds.

It is expected that the play will take a record run for the week, as those who have attended take pleasure in recommending it to their friends.

In addition to the nightly performances a matinee will be given Saturday afternoon at 2:15.

TO DISCUSS MODE AND DESIGN OF BAPTISM

Next Sunday morning at 11 00 o'clock R D Smith the minister of the Church of Christ will speak on the subject, The Mode or Form of Baptism

The commands of our Saviour should always be regarded with all seriousness. And we remember that he said just before leaving this world for that eternal, Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved."

We cordially invite all who are interested in our Saviour s commands to come and study these two subjects with us It is desired to assure all who may have a desire to hear these subjects that it is not the purpose to indulge in low coarse slang nor in abusive language against those who may differ with us It is our earnest purpose to present the truth on the subjects as best we can and to leave it to our hearers to judge as to our efforts

You are respectfully invited to bring your Bibles and your pencils and paper and to note the arguments with the scriptures and other proofs offered You will not disturb us in the least by taking notes and asking questions when the sermon is proceeding Come now and let us reason together—R D SMITH Pastor
